Joan Linder and Maureen O’Leary

In “Slightly Surreal Suburbia.”

The two female artists in this show offer a look at the suburban life that newly took hold of them during the pandemic. Paintings by Maureen O’Leary capture moody domesticity on Long Island; paper works and sculpture by Joan Linder, who lives in Buffalo, include a painstaking replica of a Wet Ones container — the kind of item we may never view the same again. —Jessica Silvester
Cristin Tierney Gallery, 219 Bowery, second fl., through August 6.
